Art Unit: 1755

This action is in response to applicants' amendment of 11 May 2005. The supplied partial translation of DE 1,177,538 and the amendment to the claims have overcome the 35 USC 102 rejection. Applicant's arguments with respect to the obviousness-type double patenting rejection have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

There is no teaching in the originally filed application that the Mn-Zn ferrite contains 40-49.9 mol% FeO and Fe₂O₃, 4-26.5 mol% ZnO, 0.1-4 mol% of at least one of TiO₂ and SnO₂ and a remainder of MnO and Mn₂O₃. The phrases "40-49.9 mol% FeO and Fe₂O₃" and "a remainder of MnO and Mn₂O₃" mean that any amount of the two listed oxides can be present as long as the total falls within the claimed ranges. The specification teaches the ferrite contains 40-49.9 mol% Fe₂O₃, 4-26.5 mol% ZnO, 0.1-4 mol% of at least one of TiO₂ and SnO₂, little amounts of FeO and Mn₂O₃ and a remainder of MnO, where the only definitions of "little" is 0.2 mol% or less of FeO and 0.5 mol% or less of Mn₂O₃. Thus the claim contains new matter with respect to the new claimed amounts of FeO and Mn₂O₃.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-3 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of copending Application No. 10/765,050. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claimed composition in the copending application overlaps and thus suggests that claimed absorber.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

The fact the copending application does not claim an electromagnetic wave absorber does not overcome the rejection since wave absorbers have no defined structure and thus simply indicates a use of the claimed ferrite. There has been no showing that the ferrite claimed in the copending applicant cannot act as an electromagnetic wave absorber in the overlapping compositions.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period.

Art Unit: 1755

will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37

CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
